

Boy Stole Truck and Broke Into 2 Places, Chased

A bad boy with a stolen truck led local officers a merry chase from 3 o'clock Monday morning until sunup. But all track of the youth was lost. The truck which was stolen from Sam Laroe at Happy was returned to the owner.

The Morrison Service Station was broken into early Monday morning, and a quantity of candy, cigarettes and pennies were stolen. The boy moved on to the Hickman Motor Co. where $50 was stolen.

From here it is presumed that the boy drove to the B. C. Taylor Station. Mr. Taylor was awakened and a mere boy asked to have the truck filled, which Mr. Taylor did. As the boy handed money to Mr. Taylor he drew a pistol and demanded all the cash he had in the station.

An argument started, and the boy jumped into the truck, with Taylor following in his car. Otto White, night watchman joined the chase, but the boy evaded him.

The boy and truck went east to the Herman Kuehman farm, and then south, and turned back toward the highway, with Taylor following. Near the Heizer farm the boy struck a freshly graded road and the truck bogged down. The boy fled, leaving the lights on, and keys in the transmission. As Taylor came up to the truck, the boy fired on him with the pistol, but darkness was hiding the boy. Taylor had a flat, but managed to catch a ride into Canyon. Sheriff M. E. Cantrell was called and was on the case until daylight. It was impossible to track the boy.

Taylor described the boy as blond, and only about 13 or 14 years of age.

County Agent Gives Hints On Use of Sprays

The County Agent, H. E. Shahan, reports that some people have been receiving damage on gardens, shrubs, truck crops, trees and ornamentals from the use of 2-4-D.

We do not know what the limitations for use of sprays are. It is possible that by using low gallonage sprays part of the liquid is converted into a fog which could drift some distance.

Certainly we should emphasize the necessity for extreme caution on the part of all users of weed killers to minimize any unwarranted and undesirable results.

Rain may nullify or reduce the effectiveness of the treatment if it falls within 8 to 12 hours after applying a salt solution or within an hour after using an ester solution.

The spray is capable of drifting 400 yards or more in high winds. Extreme care should be observed to avoid damage to susceptible crops, trees, gardens, and ornamental plantings. Cereal crops, sorghums, corn, and all other grasses, except in the seedling stage, are highly resistant to 2-4-D, but alfalfa, sweet clover, cotton, and many other broad leaved plants are subject to lethal damage by the chemical. Osage orange and hackberry are highly resistant to 2-4-D, but black locust, china-berry, and cottonwood are easily damaged and sometimes killed by drifting spray.

The dusts of 2-4-D usually drift much farther than the sprays, and therefore, often causes more damage to susceptible crops. Moreover, the dusts are considered less satisfactory than the sprays in dry regions.

This material has its place in agriculture, but continued adverse reports from its use will place a handicap on it.

Canyon Voting at American Legion Hall on July 24

The primary election in Canyon on July 24 will be held at American Legion Hall.

The primary is being held at this place in order to secure larger facilities to handle the large vote which will be cast in this election.

In order to facilitate counting of the ballots two crews will tally the ballots, both in Canyon and in South Amarillo. This latter election will be held at the Alice Landergin School.

It has been found in past years that it is impossible for one tally crew to keep up with the ballot counting in these two voting boxes. In years past it has been early in the morning before these boxes could be completed.

All citizens of Randall county are urged to go to the polls early on July 24 in order that counting may be completed and returned early in the evening on July 24.

This Issue of News Going to South Amarillo

Greetings to the citizens of South Amarillo.

This week's issue of the Canyon News goes to all homes in South Amarillo. We are anxious that you citizens of Randall county shall read this issue, which is a fair example of the type of newspaper that we publish down here at Canyon.

While we are distributing this issue largely because of the interest in the county's candidates in getting a message into your homes, we have a selfish interest in that we want to become better acquainted with the people of Canyon and the balance of Randall county.

We suggest that those who are not regular readers of the Canyon News should take a subscription in order to keep up with affairs in YOUR COUNTY.

Just drop a check in the mails, giving your full address. $1.50 will pay for a full year; or you may place two $1.00 bills in your letter to receive the Canyon News for 16 months; or $3.00 for two years.

By all means, read this issue and vote as you please on July 24.

Candidates Made Talks Tuesday To Precinct Voters

Tuesday night was candidates night in Canyon.

It was the largest candidate rally ever staged in Canyon, with more than 1,000 voters coming to the court house square to applaud the various candidates as they spoke in the interest of their candidacy.

The audience was very attentive and each speaker was loudly cheered following the short speeches.

All except one of the county candidates were present.

Judge Ernest Northcutt of Potter county was the only district candidate present, and he spoke briefly on his race.

J. W. Shook told the voters a few things about their duties when they went to the polls. Among them were: Canyon voters would go to the Legion Hall to vote; Please go early, since there are about 1400 voters in the precinct and it was 3 o'clock Sunday morning two years ago before the votes were counted; do not go to the polls at 2 o'clock in the afternoon as that is the time for canvassing absentee ballots; absentee voting may continue until July 20; do not be afraid to tell your name to the election force, speaking distinctly so they can get your name on first call; do not go to the polls to visit, since it is a business place with much work to be done on July 24.

The entire east side of the square was filled with cars, and people lined the sidewalks on both sides.

A visiting newspaper man stated that this was the largest, most attentive political gathering that he had attended this year in any town.

Since the candidates have spoken, the voters will now take over and go to the polls on July 24 to make the final selection for the new precinct, county, district and state officials for the coming two years.

Truman, Barkley In Election Fight Lead Democrats

PRESIDENT TRUMAN

SENATOR BARKLEY

Unless plans go hay-wire Wednesday in the Democratic National Convention at Philadelphia, it will be Truman and Barkley on the first ballot.

As matters stood Wednesday morning, nothing is in the way for the nomination of President Truman on the first ballot.

Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, keynote speaker on Monday night, swept the convention before him, and swept all opponents out of the way, provided he is willing to accept the nomination for vice president. There seems little chance that he will decline. There is no other outstanding man being considered.

The platform committee was still far from settlement on the hot issue of the civic rights bill which the President advocates. It seemed that some Southern delegates may bolt the convention if the platform is not written according to the demands of the South.

Advisory Board on Palo Duro in First Meeting

Members of the new advisory board for Palo Duro State Park met Friday noon in Amarillo to make recommendations to the Texas State Parks Board on improvements which are needed at the Park.

All of the members, excepting Ross Rogers, were present.

Guy Carlander of Amarillo was named chairman and Rex Baxter is serving as secretary. Others members are L. S. Johnston and Clyde Warwick of Canyon; J. B. Ellison of Hereford; Ted Lokey, Jim Reynolds, S. B. Whittenburg of Amarillo.

The State Parks Board will hold a meeting in August to adopt a budget for the parks of Texas. It was decided that a representative of the advisory board should attend this meeting and represent the Panhandle interest.

An adequate road in the Palo Duro was considered as the most important and most urgent need. Visitors cannot see the park unless there is a good road, well paved and maintained. A group of Panhandle citizens recently presented the road matter to the State Highway Commission. This commission has held two meetings, and nothing has been done. If the highway group is unable to take over the road in the park, it was decided to ask for an appropriation to do this work.

The second most urgent need was an adequate water supply. The present system is inadequate, and must be improved.

In the third place, cooperation will be needed with the park management in bringing more people. Frank Miller has been in charge of the park for nine years. During that time he states that the state has spent but a very few dollars in developing the property. However that may be justified by the fact that no sound financial arrangement had been made until a year ago.

The first annual financial report was made recently on the operations under the new financial arrangement, which shows a profit of $2,000 on operations for the first year. Mr. Miller states that the State Parks Board will install a windmill on a well which was drilled during CCC operations. This will increase the water supply sufficiently to make the lodge more profitable.

The lodge was opened Tuesday and concessions will be operated there during the summer. Meals will be served when advance reservations are made.

Mr. Miller states that he needs electric power at the lodge and at the cabins near the lodge to make this more attractive. His contract will expire August 31, and he hopes to secure its renewal.

State Representative Blake Timmons of Amarillo has filed a request with the State Board of Control for an appropriation to build more cabins and make many other improvements in the park. The advisory board will check into this matter and make recommendations to the parks board at the August meeting.

Another meeting of the board will be held on July 23 to receive reports on the various phases of work in progress at the Park.

Editorials

THE PRIMARY ELECTION

In just another week the voters of Randall county will be given the great American privilege of going to the polls and making their selection of those who will serve them in public office.

It is a privilege to be able to vote. The freedom of America depends entirely upon the seriousness of our citizens in their willingness to go to the polls and use their best judgment in voting for the persons whom they believe to be best fitted to serve them in public office.

When the voter goes to the polls, friendships cease, and the obligations of a citizen begin. We have the obligation to vote for candidates who will give the best service to the public. This is the greatest obligation that any citizen may have.

In years past, The News has always discussed candidates in advance of our primary elections in order to give the voters the benefit of any information that we may have regarding these men. We have found that this information is usually pretty sound, and has been used as a guide by many voters in Randall county. We give them to you for what they may be worth to you.

We shall select a candidate for United States Senator to succeed W. Lee O'Daniel, who is not a candidate for re-election. While the names of 11 candidates are printed on the official ballots, only three of these candidates are making a serious bid for the nomination. It is considered by political observers that only two have a chance in this primary.

George Peddy of Houston is an able man, but he has not been in the public eye for 25 years. He has plenty of money at his command, but no political experience. When he received such a big write-in vote 25 years ago, he was trying to oust Kiansman Earle B. Mayfield. This year is a different story.

The big fight is between Coke Stevenson and Lyndon Johnson. Supporters of Johnson claim that he is getting most of his support from the Stevenson camp. What of it? The claim is probably true, since Coke had very little opposition until Johnson came into the race. Johnson is the super-duper new dealer of Texas, but is now trying to convince the people that he is no longer such a hot shot as a new dealer.

Coke Stevenson devised a new method of politics when he entered his first campaign, refraining from making political speeches. He goes around the state shaking hands, and talking with the voters. By this method he meets more people in every community than he could touch by making speeches. He is not attempting to fool the people. He is the same Coke Stevenson who served the people of Texas so long as a member of the House; two terms as Speaker of the House; as Lieutenant Governor; as Governor for 5½ years; a record term of office, equalled by no other person in the State's history. He is not running around the race, but the manner in which he is making promises of what he will do. His record as a public official for the past 20 years stands for what he will do when he goes to Washington.

Johnson is the youngest man in the state, or even flying around, is straddling the fence is disgusting to many people.

The News is of the opinion that Governor Beauford Jester will be re-nominated in the first primary. He has seven opponents, but only two are active in the campaign. Both of these fellows are trying to ride into office on political issues which are of little or no interest to the people of the state. We are convinced that Jester has made a good record in public office and the people are not going to be fooled by any clap-trap promises of men who know little or nothing about the things which they promise.

Allan Shivers is the present Lieutenant Governor and is seeking a second term. His opponent will receive little support.

Four men are candidates for the Supreme Court. We hope that the voters of Randall county will support those who are seeking re-election: J. E. Hickman, Chief Justice; James P. Hart for Place No. 2; and W. St. John Garwood for place No. 3.

Famous Division To Visit Amarillo Recruiting Mission

Amarillo will play host to a special recruiting team composed of members of the famous 1st Cavalry Division and the 11th Airborne Division on 14 and 15 of July. It was learned today from Capt. Eugene Saffold, Commanding Officer of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station at 12 post office building.

The "Cavalry Troopers" of the "1st" are well known to the people of the Southwest, having been stationed for years along the Mexican border. Many men from this area served with the Division prior to and during World War II and many are still with the Division which is now on occupation duty in Japan.

The Division was organized on August 31, 1921 but some of its units date back to the Civil War. The 5th Cavalry Regiment was organized in 1855 and commanded by Lt. Col. Robert E. Lee. The 7th Regiment organized in 1866 was with Custer at his "last stand."

It was the 1st Cavalry Division which raised the Stars and Stripes over Tokyo, climax of hard fought campaigns by the only active cavalry division in World War II.

The Division first went into combat in February 1944 when they took Hyane Harbor, Los Negros, Admiralty Islands, followed by the capture of Momote Airstrip, Pajitai Mission and Lombrum. At Leyte the "1st" was the spearhead unit capturing Caisan Airfield on 20 October 1944.

On 17 January 1945 the Division landed at Lingayen (Luzon) and headed for Manila. After fighting through to the Angat River, fording streams and blasting road blocks, they clanked first into Manila on 3 February, shortly thereafter freeing 3700 allied civilians held by the Japs.

The Division was mechanized in 1942 but still retains its "square" division organization of two cavalry brigades, each having two regimental combat teams. It is currently com-held in disdain by the laymen of the state because of its technical attitude. This court has reversed so many cases on so many silly issues that it is very hard to convict any criminal on any charge. Harry N. Graves is one of the chief obstructionists to justice. However, we expect him to be re-elected in spite of the fact that W. E. Myres seems to be a good lawyer.

It is time for Ernest O. Thompson to be up for re-election as Railroad Commissioner. Everyone in the Panhandle knows that Thompson has made a fine official. He is the senior member of the Commission and has a brilliant record. Since this Commission handles the greatest problems of our lives—oil, gas, transportation—it is highly important that Thompson be re-elected.

Running for re-election as Railroad Commissioner for the unexpired term is William J. Murray, Jr. Murray is a highly qualified oil and gas man. He grew up in the business, and has a fine record in his office. He has two opponents, neither of whom could possibly make a better official.

As usual, Comptroller George Sheppard has an opponent. But Sheppard will be re-elected by the usual big majority. George took over the office at a time when public life in Texas was at a low ebb. He added business methods and honesty to his office; and brought order to confusion.

Just why Bascom Giles has three opponents as Land Commissioner is hard to understand. Giles has made a good record in his work, and has not held office too long. One is running on the Mayfield name, a magic name of other years in Texas politics, and another on the Robison name, relative of the man who held this office for a score of years.

Jesse James is seeking re-election as State Treasurer. This office is purely a clerical job, and James has a good record. We see no sense in making a change.

But the case of J. E. McDonald is an altogether different one. Old Mac has been Commissioner of Agriculture for 16 years. He supports the Republican candidate for president, but asks the Democrats of Texas to keep him in office. He is now under federal indictment. Mac has a grip on the cotton farmers of Texas, and always turns up top man in the political scramble. This time his opponent is James D. Griffin, a farmer and former school teacher. He is well qualified for the job, and this time the voters should turn down the man who has held such a long tenure of office.

This brings us down to local, District and County offices. Every voter in Randall county should know all of these candidates for these offices. You have seen many of them several times during the course of this campaign, and therefore have the opportunity to pass judgment of their merits.

When you hire a man or woman in your own business, or to do your work, you expect to get the best that money will hire. The same index should govern when you vote for public officials.

But above all, go to the polls on July 24 and vote your sentiments. Those who refuse to take the time to vote have no kick when these who do vote hire some public officer with whom you are displeased.

You have an obligation, as well as a public privilege in casting your vote in our public elections.

General Eisenhower has completely taken himself out of consideration by the Democratic party for nomination for the presidency. Eisenhower is a very, very wise man—much wiser than MacArthur, who stuck out his political neck and got it chopped off. Facts are that Eisenhower would make a good president, provided he had a little more civilian training. His life has been spent in the military, which is a weakness when it comes to administering civilian affairs. Ike will receive fine training in his new job as president of Columbia University. For the present, he is much better off in this job than he would have been in the White House. And besides, he would have lost prestige if Dewey should win the November election. By the time you read this, President Truman will be the Democratic nominee.

Political conventions always do a lot of talking about platforms for the candidates. But what happens after these platforms are adopted? Nothing! GOP adopted a very short platform! Who read it? Only 12% of the people. Who will read the Democratic platform? About the same number of persons. Platforms are made for the politicians to mull over. The voters look to the candidates and see what manner of men these fellows are. Very often a majority of the voters stick to their life-long prejudices, either Republican or Democratic.

We see the people of Childress have given up the idea of a junior college. Personally we believe that the taxpayers in Childress reached a wise decision. The mounting cost of schools and colleges should make people think seriously before they jump into new projects which will be very, very expensive. In addition to getting only about 25% value for money spent on buildings these days, costs of operation are terrific, as every person knows.

President Truman, when he worked out details of Berlin's occupation at the Potsdam Conference with Joseph Stalin, forgot to arrange for a supply corridor to the German capital, Berlin, as a result, is cut off from land contact with the West, except as Russian troops permit that contact.

James Forrestal, Defense Secretary; Robert Lovett, Under Secretary of State, and Mr. Truman made up the team that has directed U. S. policy in meeting the Russian challenge at Berlin. Lack of Foreign Policy Has Led To Present Mess

William Henry Chamberlain, who is one of the best informed and most dispassionate of American writers upon foreign affairs, recently discussed the very vital problem of continuity and consistency in our foreign policy, in a column appearing in the Wall Street Journal. As he writes, "An America that wobbles and vacillates will not carry the weight in world affairs that is appropriate to its political, economic and military power."

This is not, however, as simple a matter as it may appear on first glance. For, as Mr. Chamberlain also says, "There can be no continuity in inconsistency." And the glaring inconsistencies that appeared in our foreign policy both during and immediately after the war have undoubtedly weakened our prestige, aroused suspicions as to our motives and our wisdom in quarters whose whole-hearted cooperation is necessary if the Western Powers are to present to the world a strong and unified front.

Mr. Chamberlain discusses Yalta where, in his opinion "a high point of hypocrisy was reached." At Yalta, Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin again affirmed their faith in the broad principles of the Atlantic Charter. The most important single provision of the Charter is that all peoples shall have the right "to choose the form of government under which they will live." Another, of almost equal moment, is that all the nations, including victor and vanquished, shall have access on equal terms "to the trade and raw materials of the world." These great principles presumably were the rock-bound basis on which the war aims of the great powers rested.

Yet, at Yalta a deal was made whereby Russia was allowed to take over close to half of Poland's pre-war territory, and Poland was not even represented at the conference. Following that, it became increasingly clear that the peace settlement, to quote Mr. Chamberlain again, was "calculated to turn Germany into an economic wasteland and Europe into a perpetual dependent of American subsidies." The roots of this lay in the Morgenthau plan which was designed to reduce Germany permanently to a fourth-rate economic power.

Of course, hind-sight is easy. During the war there was an understandable eagerness to keep Stalin happy, and this unquestionably led to over-optimism as to the sincerity behind Soviet pledges to work with this and other countries for world peace and rehabilitation. Even so, the fact that the acts of the great powers nullified the Atlantic Charter even as their representatives praised it in general and meaningless terms, did us no good abroad. And it helped the Communists, who are experts at making capital out of human disillusionment, to build up their large followings in France, Italy and elsewhere.

In the last year or two, fortunately, something more nearly resembling a consistent and continuous foreign policy has come into being. It has been forced on us by the dire necessity of stopping Russia before her sphere of influence goes clear to the Mediterranean and the Atlantic ocean. The idea of permanently destroying Germany as a major economic power has been abandoned. And there has been a very real effort, bipartisan in character, to reaffirm through positive action the principle of the self-determination of peoples—a principle, curiously enough, which hasn't changed in significance since World War I, when Woodrow Wilson made his courageous but doomed fight for his 14 points.

It is certainly clear that the Soviet Union has not, and has never had, any desire for self-determination. Her policy lies in encouraging, and giving material support to, revolutions inside nations where small but beautifully organized minorities take over all the reigns of power and later justify them with the phony kind of elections. This technique has been the means of giving Russia all of her tremendous gains since V-E day. Yet, from the Kremlin's point of view, it may not all be rosy. There is every evidence that millions of Poles, Czechs, Yugoslavs and others hold the bitterest hatred for Russia. The Communists can liquidate the leaders of the opposition, but they can't clean out all the dissidents among the rank and file. In the event of war, or any internal emergency, the Soviet Union certainly could not depend on her satellite countries for enthusiastic assistance. There are some who believe that these countries might prove to be and intolerable drain of Russia, by forcing her to police them with armies of trained men.

In any event, there is more and more talk of the need for an absolutely clear-cut American foreign policy which will say, in effect, that we will help the cooperating nations recover, and will support them in selecting governments of their own choosing, through free and secret elections. The emphasis would be on constructive action—rather than being based on more or less unrelated programs designed to help contain Russia. We have made progress in that direction, and the hope is that the next year will see a real job done.

Candidate for County Judge
and Ex-Officio
School
Superintendent

Randall County

I wish to take this means of advancing my candidacy for the office of County Judge and Ex-Officio Superintendent of Schools of Randall County, subject to the Democratic Primary, July 24.

Randall County has been my home for forty-five years. I graduated from Canyon High School, attended West State and graduated from the University of Texas with a BBA Degree. The good people of Randall County honored me by electing me to this office a few years ago and for this I am very grateful and wish to thank them for their support and cooperation. Since March, I have been filling the office for which I am seeking, by serving the unexpired term of the late Judge Hunt.

It is my plan to see each voter during this campaign and discuss my candidacy with each; but should I miss anyone, I take this opportunity to ask for your vote and support in the coming primary election.

I consider the office of County Judge and Ex-Officio School Superintendent an important county office, and should I merit the confidence of you voters, I promise to do my best to administer this office in a just, efficient and businesslike manner.

Vocations Offered to Handicapped of State and Veterans

Many people do not know that the State of Texas gives free educational training, furnishes trade tools and supplies, finds jobs, and buys hearing aids or artificial limbs for handicapped civilians to help them prepare for good, steady jobs.

Anyone 16 years old or older who has a permanent physical handicap is eligible for services of the State Rehabilitation Division. The State program is not just for veterans; it is for any deserving handicapped citizen.

The State Rehabilitation Division can:

1. Pay fees and tuition to college or business, trade, beauty, barber, or technical schools to help a person become a skilled worker.
2. furnish hearing aids, artificial limbs, or occupational tools and equipment.
3. Pay for hospitalization and surgery to correct an employment handicap (such as a rupture) if the person can not pay for the operation.
4. Pay board and room during a short vocational course.
5. Arrange and pay for on-the-job or employment training.
6. Help a handicapped person find a permanent job or career.

People with employment handicaps because of any crippling condition, T.B., diabetes, heart trouble, loss of vision in one eye, hard of hearing, speech defects, etc., are usually eligible for help from the State Rehabilitation Division. Anyone interested is invited to write or visit the Panhandle District Office for additional information.

Senator Edward Martin, of Pennsylvania, is barred by law from selection for the job of Secretary of National Defense. The Secretary, under the law, cannot have served as a commissioned officer in the regular armed services within 10 years of his appointment. Senator Martin was a major general in World War II. The Secretary of Defense in a Dewey Cabinet, in fact, cannot be any present Senator, unless his term expires this year. The Constitution forbids the appointment of any Congressman, during his term of office, to an executive office which has been created during that term.

Representative Charles Halleck, of Indiana, thought he had been promised second place on a Dewey ticket and so told friends after he had thrown Indiana's votes to Thomas E. Dewey for the Republican nomination at the Convention in Philadelphia. Senator Wayne Morse, of Oregon, set under way the revolt of Republican Senators that finally blocked the Halleck selection.

Lend-Lease of military equipment to nations of Western Europe, if revived by U. S., will be financed as part of the total budget for defense, not as a separate project. To the People of Randall County

MRS. ELZIE PRICE

Candidate for Re-election
County
Treasurer

I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the confidence placed in me when elected to the important office of Randall County Treasurer and for the co-operation and support of all of the people while serving as your County Treasurer.

I regret that it will be impossible for me to contact each voter personally, but as the duties of the office require practically all of my time, it makes personal contact difficult. Moreover, during the entire time of my service in this office, I have never felt it expedient to employ another person to whom my duties as County Treasurer could be entrusted; having always felt a strong personal responsibility for a record correct in detail.

If you will consider this a personal appeal for your continued support and your vote in the July Primary Election I shall be deeply grateful, and, if re-elected, I shall do my utmost to serve you in the same courteous, efficient way that I have tried to do in the past.

Mrs. Elzie Price

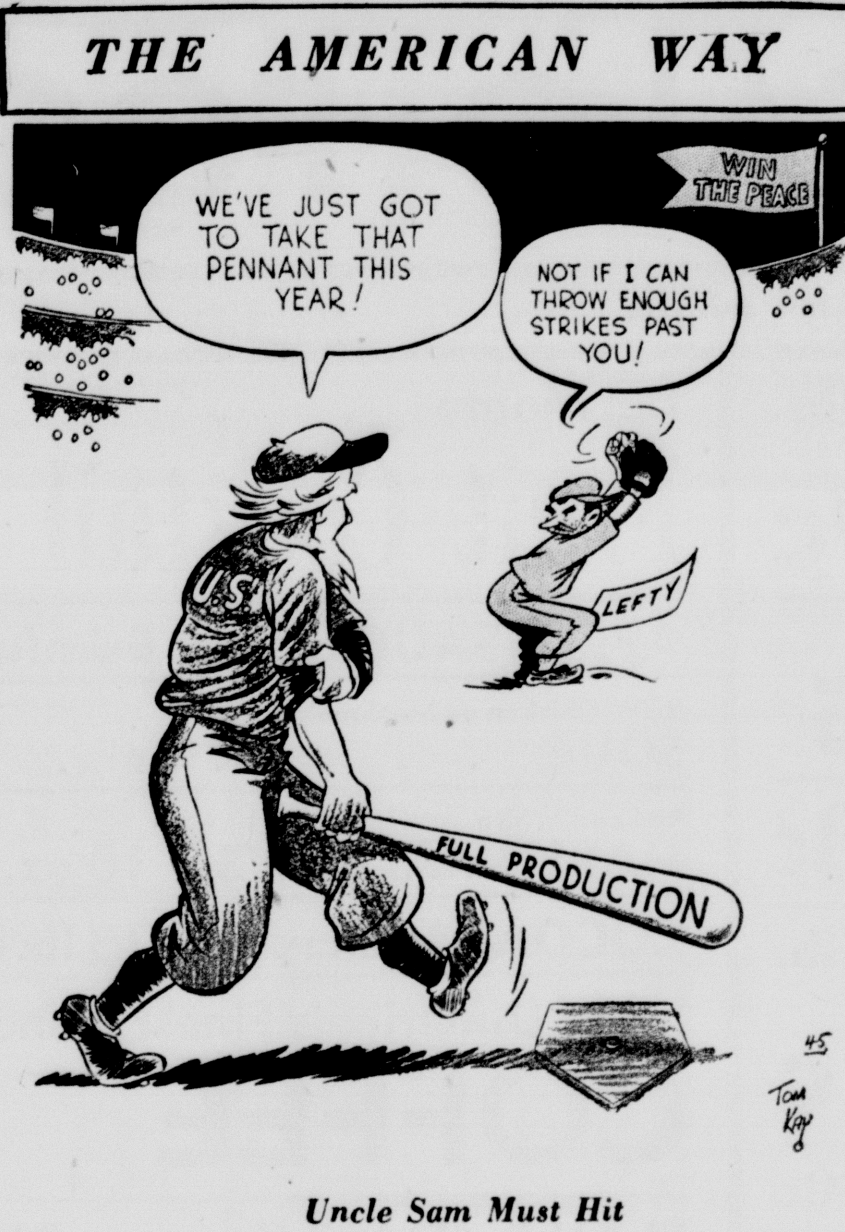

GOP Joins In Aid Program Assist Europe Recover

"Out of the prevailing confusion a new world is taking shape," writes Sir Harold Butler in Foreign Affairs. "The most significant change is the revival of Western Europe's will to live. The mood of apathy and despair seems to be yielding to new hope and energy. For that the Marshall plan must be regarded as mainly responsible. It was not, however, the offer of further American aid which revived the drooping spirits of the Europeans. They had no reason to think that by themselves more billions of dollars could be more than a temporary palliative. What stirred them to action was the notion that by working together they could use this American grant to lay the foundation of a new European system."

If that point of view is correct, Western Europe may be on the verge of unity for the first time in recorded history. Under the pressure of bleak necessity, the old prejudices and hatreds, stemming back to real and alleged injustices which occurred centuries ago, may be disappearing. Should that happen, the principal barrier to a strong Europe, capable of meeting and resisting aggression from the East, will gradually disappear.

It is true that in France, Italy, and elsewhere, there is an enormous amount of downright graft, lethargy, and the desire to get as much as possible while giving as little as possible. But this should not obscure the fact that many millions of Europeans, and their governments, are committed to a policy of hard work and sacrifice in order to build for the future. Many American correspondents have been tremendously impressed by what Western Europe is doing in the way of rehabilitation in the face of great odds, and the almost total absence of many things which are regarded as virtual necessities in happier nations.

When General Marshall first laid down his plan, in general terms, in an address at Harvard, he put special stress on the idea that it was not primarily a relief scheme but, instead, a means of getting Europe going so that she may ultimately sustain herself and make an equitable contribution to the community of nations. The Marshall Plan has gone through many transitions since then. It has become, officially, ERP. But that basic concept has not been lost. Those who have done the most to foster assistance to Europe—Marshall himself, Vandenberg, John Foster Dulles, and the others—have all described it as an effort to make it possible for the benefited nations to help themselves. And this concept clearly underlies the policy of Paul Hoffman, ERP's Administrator.

Perhaps relatively few people realize the revolutionary extent of the change in American foreign policy. There is, of course, a considerable opposition to American participation in the affairs of Europe. But it is not an effective opposition—whereas, after World War I, the all-powerful isolationist bloc in the Senate was able to get its way in every detail. It is an interesting commentary on these changing times that the leader of the opposition to Woodrow Wilson's plan for world cooperation was Senator Henry Cabot Lodge. Now young Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., has been one of the most effective backers of ERP.

The ineffectiveness of the opposition to our present policy was dramatically demonstrated in the closing days of Congress, when the House sought to make a heavy cut in ERP funds. The best known Republican leaders—Vandenberg, Dewey, Stassen, Warren—at once denounced this move. The result: 90 per cent of the House cuts were restored, and ERP survived the last assault with little change.

As time goes on, the question of how much we appropriate for purposes such as this will become more pressing. Herbert Hoover brought that up in a speech to the Republican Convention, in which he approved the principle of ERP, but observed that it would do the world no good if we weakened ourselves by devoting too much of our resources to helping other nations. This involves many imponderables. The heavy initial appropriation for ERP could have been possible only in a time of very high national income and industrial activity, which finds its reflection in vast tax revenues. Again, more inflation here would have a direct effect on the program by reducing the amount of goods that billions would buy. Dollars themselves do Europe no good. They are only valuable in the light of the machinery, food and other needed supplies they will buy.

Another fact that deserves recording is that this is the first time the United States has ever had a genuinely bipartisan foreign policy. Regardless of which party wins control of the Executive and Legislative branches in the coming elections, the policy will not vary. There will be changes in detail, of course, but no changes in principles can now be foreseen. That, to Europe, has been one of the most hopeful aspects of the postwar era. And that, too, in the view of many, is one of our main strengths in our dealings with Russia. The Soviet Union cannot hope for a change in administration which would make it possible for her to go on with her plans for dominating Europe without the opposition of the United States.

HOT STUFF

A backwoods woman the soles of whose feet had been toughened by a lifetime of solelessness, was standing in front of her cabin fireplace one day when her husband addressed her:

"You better move yer foot a mite maw; you're standing on a live coal."

Said she, nonchalantly: "Which foot, paw?"

Senator Arthur Vandenberg could have stopped Governor Dewey if he had given his son Arthur, Jr., more positive help in promoting his candidacy. The Michigan Senator insisted, however, that the nomination would have to come to him on a platter to be acceptable.

Governor Earl Warren, of California, was almost flooded with offers of Cabinet jobs and offers of second place on the G.O.P. ticket in the periods of hot bargaining for support, before Mr. Dewey's final offer.

No one, and I really mean no one, not even Drew Pearson, can give definite assurances as to when some other nation may also have atomic weapons—Sumner T. Pike, commissioner, Atomic Energy Commission.

It is my judgement that, despite uncertainty and political hysteria, war can and will be avoided unless we blunder into it.—Ex-Gov. Meyers C. Cooper, Ohio.

The modern automobile with its sleek appearance and shiny external beauty depends upon the interior finish to carry out and balance the motif of charm that pleases the eye. Paramount of importance is the upholstery of the car. Amarillo Packing Co. Reputable Firm

Providing an essential service for the community, the Amarillo Packing Co. needs no introduction to our residents. With a background of wide experience in this type of business and a thorough knowledge of every phase and intricacy of this trade they are enjoying a steady increase in business activity.

The management here is vested in men who are old hands at the skilled art of selecting prime meats at opportune market conditions. Their buying power extends to cover an area sufficient to assure their patrons of a steady supply of the best in all types of meats.

The consistent growth that the Amarillo Packing Co. has experienced is traceable to several factors. First, every effort is made to provide their customers with the best quality and properly seasoned meats. Second, consider the sound service that they have provided their merchants of the area—courteous, considerate, and fair treatment that engenders goodwill and adds to their ever expanding list of satisfied customers.

From the first day the meat is brought in to the day it is distributed to the consumer, the most modern handling equipment is employed. Methods of sanitation are used which have given them a good position with the inspection authorities. It is little wonder then that they are so well-founded in this area.

In this review of the business progress of the area we are pleased to point out the consistently good service that the Amarillo Packing Co. is rendering. We can thank them in a large measure for the fine quality meats that this district has always had.

Furr Food Stores In the Panhandle Are Distinct Asset

The Furr Food Stores primarily represent the idea of economy in distribution. They have saved food purchasers untold thousands of dollars. At the same time they have brought additional benefits to the Panhandle; namely the provision of greater markets and better profits for producers of food products.

Furr Food Stores is an institution with a large capital and able to enter the markets buying everything at first costs, paying cash. Many purchases are being made directly from local farmers. From the central buying and assembling establishment much money is saved in moving the goods to the stores as they have their own trucking system which is highly efficient and a great improvement over the old method of getting a small shipment here and there.

The Furr Food Stores in the Panhandle are all fitted with the very latest fixtures, the most accurate scales, refrigerating devices and everything that makes for the rapid transaction of business when a customer enters. They have a large trade but customers are not subjected to long delays as a large force is kept on duty to see that all are taken care of with courtesy and dispatch.

The Furr Food Stores, established years ago, have grown from one store to a vast organization covering this entire section, whose services are becoming more and more popular with the public as the progress of time goes marching forward.

When Ponce de Leon came to America to search for the Fountain of Youth, it would not be amiss to say he was really anticipating the modern day beauty salon. All the things he thought he could find in that fountain of youth can be found at Jeff's Beauty Shop located at 613 Adams, Amarillo. Here it is that women have learned that to show all their wiles to an advantage is only a matter of trusting Jeff's Beauty Shop with the task.

The work of a beautician is highly skilled and Jeff's Beauty Shop, in the years they have been in business have mastered every phase of this highly technical work. The people they employ are not only courteous and welltrained but are experts in this field.

Only modern up-to-date equipment is used and every effort is made for the comfort of their clientele. This shop's reputation for accurate advice on matters of beauty culture is widespread.

This writer would like to compliment Miss Jeff Edinburg and Fred Exposito on the fine work they are doing and suggest to our readers that they stop in at 613 Adams and renew their acquaintance.

The Amarillo Metal Products Company Offer Fine Service

No more dependable firm operates in the city of Amarillo than the Amarillo Metal Products Co., and the people of this city are more and more coming to the realization that this reliable concern is the one to call on for any sheet metal, gas and oil fired furnaces, air conditioning and allied work, which might present problems to less experienced workmen. Amarillo Metal Products Co., has built up an enviable reputation, and is at the present time setting the pace for all competitors in this field. Expert workmanship coupled with the use of nothing but firstclass materials have resulted in a brand of service which is some times imitated but is never equalled.

We believe that the people of our district should by all means encourage such honest efforts to please them and should whenever the opportunity presents itself, patronize the Amarillo Products Co. at 1023 W. 5th. in Amarillo.

Dock Coffey Noted For Reliability

Just as the Pontiac motor car has been first in a great many features of automobile progress, so has Dock Coffey, Pontiac Sales & Service, been first in their service to motorists of the Panhandle. So popular has become their service that they have established one of the most modern and complete automobile sales and service in all of this section. Readers are urged to stop in and see for themselves this fine establishment at 509 Tyler in Amarillo.

At the Dock Coffey Agency modern equipment is available to render car repairing. By means of this equipment and experienced mechanics, they are widely known for dependable automotive service. This department is in the hands of men who have a complete know how in the servicing and maintenance of Pontiac's and other makes of cars for that matter.

The Amarillo Auto Clinic Serves Motorists Well

Satisfactory service is not only the motto of The Amarillo Auto Clinic, in Amarillo, but this motto is backed by a reputation that has proved to the motorist that the result of good workmanship done by men of recognized skill in these lines does meet with universal approval of the customers. The people of this area have learned that it pays to have their automotive work done by an expert whose highgrade and complete equipment is maintained in the very best condition.

No matter what make of car the reader drives, or what reputation it may have for service dependability, the years of service obtained from it depends largely on the extreme care and the class of service rendered to its upkeep by first class mechanics. You can drive your car into the Amarillo Auto Clinic at 815 W. 6th., and have it completely repaired, everything that can be done by modern methods will be perfectly done.

It should be of supreme satisfaction to know that your car is in the hands of trained experts and it should be mentioned in closing that prices are always reasonable. It is proper and fitting that we pay this public tribute to Messrs. S. D. Hanes, Sr. and Jr., on their splendid record in heading this institution and wish for them many years of prosperous business.

Herbert Drug Co. Is Leading Pharmacy

The relationship between the apothecary and the physician is very close. The people should have confidence in the doctor and the doctor must have confidence in the druggist, for he himself is unable without a chemical analysis to determine whether all the ingredients called for in his prescription are contained in the compound or if they are pure and fresh. Moreover the druggist, in many instances is the medium through which the physician gains certain of his knowledge.

While the drugs and prescriptions are the foundation of the Herbert Drug Co. in the Amarillo Bldg., like other modern druggists of other cities, they have a large business in the better cosmetics, namely Marie Earle cosmetics of which they are exclusive distributors, toilet accessories, and sundry articles from which one may select necessities to fit any purse. The brands of the many articles they do carry are known the world over not for their high cost, but for their quality and popularity with the public.

Mr. J. H. Herbert, registered pharmacist and manager of the Herbert Drug Co. is the man to whom much of the success of the store is due since it is he who oversees the compounding of medicines and acts as buyer for the select drug items handled. With the past as a criterion and the future to anticipate we predict much success for Mr. Herbert and the Herbert Drug Co. in Amarillo.

COUNTY AUDITOR REPORTS ON FINANCES OF RANDALL CO.

Due to various reports being made regarding excess fees of Randall county officials, which are being circulated for political purposes, County Auditor E. T. Cummings makes the following statement. Randall county changed from the fee system to the salary system on March 31, 1948, which automatically made all fees collected from January 1 to that date due to the county. The statement follows:

Canyon, Texas, July 10, 1948.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

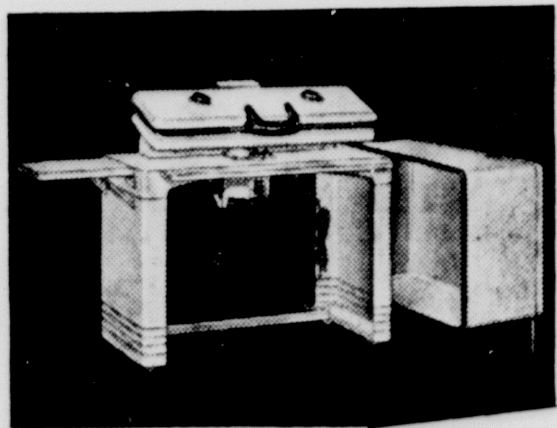

It is my understanding that there have been conflicting rumors as to the indebtedness of the various county officials of Randall County, Texas, to the County of Randall since the change over on January 1, 1948, from the fee system to a straight salary.

I, E. T. Cummings, County Auditor, for Randall County, Texas, do hereby certify that of this date, July 10, 1948, there is no Randall County official delinquent to said county, nor does any county official owe said Randall County any amount of money for fees up to the period ending March 31, 1948, the last period we have examined.

Yours truly,

E. T. Cummings
Auditor for Randall County

When I announced for the office of County Judge I had hoped to visit each community in the county and meet you personally.

However, I work for a living and there has been a shortage of men at the newspaper office where I am employed, and longer hours have been necessary.

Any neglect of my duties as your candidate is unintentional, and I hope to meet you all soon.

I announced for this office from a real desire to serve my neighbors and friends more directly than I have been able to do in the past, and am confident that if you elect me you will never have cause to regret it.

ZEKE SEZ--

By Nugent Ezekial Brown

SAN ANTONIO, July 21 — Well, folks, that race for the U. S. Senate job to be vacated next January by one W. Lee O'Daniel of uncertain fame is warming up a bit. The race has reached the stage where the candidates are engaging in name-calling. That means they are really working hard and in an earnestness about the matter of getting nominated on July 24th.

Johnson, the "Little Lindie", of Austin was talking from his helicopter this week to cotton pickers in the Rio Grande Valley fields, he proudly admits. What he doesn't admit, publicly, is that these same cotton pickers are Mexicans for the most part and they don't understand more than a dozen words in English. So we are wondering if Lindie's little shouting at them netted him any votes. Johnson is mad at the Dallas News, saying they should be for him as he "done 'em a big favor". George Peddy poses the question, "When did the time come that a candidate could bulldoze a big paper into supporting him? He won't get very far with the Dallas News."

Peddy charged last Thursday that Johnson's record is "totally devoid" of any protest against appeasement of Russia, adding that he charges Johnson "with failure to understand what was going on, or, in the alternative, with a total lack of courage to take a firm stand against the appeasement of Russia." In the meantime, Johnson got another helicopter last week, according to the Dallas News, sending the first one back for repairs.

Caso March, that law prof from Baylor University, and Roger Q. Evans were both traveling around over Texas last week as candidates for governor. It begins to look as if both together will get possibly one-third of the total vote, leaving only two-thirds for Beauford Jester! And both of them are good men for all that but they don't have a chance.

The fatal shooting of former State Senator Eugene Miller of Parker last week by avowed political enemies shocked the State. However much some left-wingers hated Miller, no one excuses them for this action. Legislator Jim Wright of Weatherford was the first to rush in and give a pint of blood to Miller just before the latter died from his wounds. No one blames Wright as he is one of the friendliest guys you ever met. It was the result of an old grudge, the story goes. No one had been arrested at the week end. Miller himself didn't recognize his killer, although he told how he was called out of his house.

463 Cases of Diphtheria In Texas During 1948

According to the morbidity report for the week ending July 3, more than 463 diphtheria occurred throughout the state so far this year.

The morbidity report is released weekly by the Texas State Department of Health. It shows the prevalence of communicable disease by counties.

"In the light of our present knowledge regarding the control of diphtheria, it is unfortunate that the disease is allowed to flourish," Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, said.

For the week June 26 to July 3, Nueces County reported four cases; Hopkins, Tarrant and Val Verde Counties reported one each. For the year 1947, seventy-seven deaths from diphtheria were recorded.

"A life-time immunity may be established in 90 per cent of the children receiving the diphtheria toxoid," the health officer said. "If all parents of children over six months of age would have their children inoculated, the incidence rate of the disease would be rapidly reduced."

The administration of toxoid causes little or no discomfort in the child, Dr. Cox added, and a positive immunity can be determined by a Schick test conducted four to six months after the final dose of the toxoid has been given the child.

No matter how far from town you may live, you need only to inform the Amarillo Animal By-Products Co. by calling 2-6521 in Amarillo and dismiss the matter from your mind. They have won the confidence and support of many farmers and stockmen throughout this section by the promptness exercised in the responding to calls, having not only the most modern large auto trucks for the removal of carcasses, but the most dependable. There are at the present time only two safe ways of disposing of dead animals. Of the two, rendering is to be commended, for it is not only the most sanitary way of disposing of the carcass, but it is the best from a commercial standpoint, for modern firms like this one transport all dead animals and utilize every portion of the carcass. Lane Ice Cream Co. Home of Purity

Ice Cream is one of those truly American delicacies. In this area, we have come to recognize the well varied ice cream products from the Lane Ice Cream Co., in Amarillo at 1201 W. 7th, as the tastiest and most wholesome to be had. These fine full-flavored ice creams are found in the leading stores and soda fountains of the district. It becomes easier to see why the Lane Ice Cream Co. has been able to produce these excellent and appetizing products when the plant facilities and methods are examined. With the most modern freezing equipment they have been able to produce large quantities at a lower cost. By using the purest creams and flavoring, they have distinguished the resultant product from the ordinary "commercial" ice cream. Instead of a foamy compound that rapidly melts, this fine ice cream has that homelike character of rich, full-flavor and solid consistency. From the spotless plant, and modern equipment and the finest of pure ingredients, comes Lane's Ice Cream, so good it gets the finest compliment possible. "It's as good as mother used to make." Yes, this comment will be heard about the ice cream regardless of which of their delectable flavors you choose to serve.

Harvey Southworth Distributes Jeeps

As a Willys car dealer Harvey Southworth recognizes the fact that a good car is not the results of a day's work; it is the product of year-after-year improvement and constant advance. As such, the Willys Jeep and Willys Station Wagon represents an enviable engineering accomplishment. All Willys products preserve that fine balance between appearance and power, size and economy, speed and safety, comfort and alertness. It is not carefully prepared tests under favorable conditions which prove the worth of a car, but the every day use, sudden emergencies and the long range record of economy such as was undergone by the Willys during the war and which demonstrates the true value of Willys products today. Many of the people in our section who now own such popular Willys products as the station wagon or the Jeep powered for agriculture use have only the highest praise for the durability and usefulness derived from ownership. Of prime importance to local residents is the fact that the Harvey Southworth Sales and Service offer immediate delivery and require no trade. Cars may be brought from their modern display rooms at 701 Fillmore on either cash or terms. Mr. Harvey Southworth is to be congratulated on making available to the motoring public of this territory such fine cars and it is the sincere wish of this writer that Mr. Southworth enjoy an ever fruitful future. Amarillo Neon Co. Deserves Mention

The scope of operations of the Amarillo Neon Co. in Amarillo at 505 Arthur, includes everything both ancient and modern from the simplest to the most advanced fluorescent lighting and ultra modern neon type of sign. In the Amarillo Neon Co. has originated many ideas in fluorescent and neon lighting that have proven a real boon to our home builders and business men alike. The Amarillo Neon Co. maintains a well trained organization paying out many dollars in Amarillo annually for payroll and supplies purchased from local concerns. Thus a considerable sum of money is placed in circulation in this vicinity which would go elsewhere if this firm did not operate here. Manufacturing signs in Amarillo and shipping them to other cities in the Panhandle has also materially aided in giving Amarillo additional publicity which in turn increased the city's worth. The Amarillo Neon Co. is mentioned favorably as good boosters of this section and the high character of their service is unexcelled. Those people desiring the latest of innovations in style in fluorescent lighting, and neon signs would do well by contacting either Mr. L. A. Pittman or Mr. Jay Pittman, the genial co-owners of the firm by calling 2-6022 in Amarillo. There is no institution that is conducted in Amarillo that is deserving of more favorable comment in our Progress Edition.

Howard Feed Store For Balanced Feeds

The J. Lee Howard Feed Store has made a scientific study of the needs of this area. From this study came a knowledge of advanced ideas regarding the scientific production of feeds that are tested for purity and reliability. Today people of our district have come to know that they can get from the Howard Feed Store the best feeds and seeds on the market. They enjoy a reputation far and wide for the straight-forward methods of business operation they conduct. Price, although never stressed at the Howard Feed Store is comparable to any other feed company in this section and undoubtedly accounts in a large measure for the increasing volume of business. A complete line of Merit Feeds are kept in stock at the warehouse of the Howard Feed Store at 1312 E. 3rd., in Amarillo. These feeds are scientifically balanced rations for both and fowl. The Howard Feed Store is to be complimented for their contribution to the farmers of this area. This writer believes that Mr. J. Lee Howard has built a reliable business institution which has added to the development and progress of all the surrounding community. A housewife answered the doorbell to find a little girl of 5 and her younger brother, relatively new at walking, both standing on the step. The little girl was all dolled up in an old formal of her mother's and a grownup hat. Her little brother was wearing one of his father's hats that wobbled on his head and an older brother's coat that hung almost to the walk. "I am Mrs. Smith," said the little girl in a very formal tone, "and this is my husband, Mr. Smith. We've come to call." The woman who had answered the call decided to play along with the youngsters and their act so she invited "Mr. and Mrs. Smith" in for tea. The kids walked in and sat down and the hostess went immediately to the kitchen for some cookies and milk. When she returned the callers were already headed for the front door. "Must you go so soon?" asked the hostess. "I hoped you could stay for tea." The little girl tossed back an artificial smile. "We can't thank you," she said pleasantly. "Mr. Smith just wet his pants."

A long list of Americans have now written open letters to Premier Stalin. Though many have begun "Dear Joe," it's worth noting that none so far has wound up with the customary "wish you were here."

CABBAGE

Once while campaigning in the one state of his opponent, William Howard Taft found his speech constantly interrupted by heckling from the gallery. Finally a cabbage landed on the stage and came to rest near his feet.

Pausing in his address, Mr. Taft peered at the vegetable intently and then remarked, "Ladies and gentlemen, I see that one of my adversaries has lost his head."

"But I want mine split," said the patient. "I'm lonesome."

"What did you do when Mabel got out of your car and started walking home last night?"

"I drove along side her slowly. She didn't want to miss Bob Hope."

W. H. HAMBLEN

Candidate for County Commissioner, Precinct 1, Randall County, Texas, kindly solicits your vote and influence in the coming primary election.

I have had a great deal of experience and close observation in the development of Randall and the surrounding counties of the Panhandle.

I have the distinction of being the one who made it possible to cross the Palo Duro Canyon with an automobile on a County road from Claude to Wayside, designated and officially named and recorded by the County Commissioners' Court of Armstrong County as the "Hamblen Drive."

I realize fully the responsibility, and am thoroughly familiar with the duties this office carries.

I shall be very happy if I am privileged to serve as your Commissioner for the next two years.

Yours for service,

W. H. HAMBLEN

Notes From County Demonstration Agent of Randall

If your rose buds dry before they open, it may not be the dry weather that is spoiling them. If fully opened roses dry before shattering and stay on the bush, look for thrips. Thrips take the sap out of your blooms and may cause your rose bushes to fill with dried flowers. As soon as one flower dries the thrips fly to another and take sap there.

Thrips are so small and so hard to see that many people do not notice them. It is easy to find them if you look. Take all the petals of one bloom with one hand and pull them off. At once tap them gently on a piece of paper and you will see tiny insects run and fly away.

It is easier to see them if you shake them onto a piece of solid black cloth. Since they have wings and have quick movements, many of them fly away at the first disturbance. However, enough will be left for you to see them. You can part the petals of the flower and see them running about inside the rose. They are flesh colored, very slender and are about the size of tiny black ants. These pests destroy many other kinds of blooms, too. Sometimes they draw sap from leaves and cause them to dry up.

When a rose garden is infested with thrips, it is a good idea to pick all of the blooms and the partly opened buds into a paper sack. Burn them immediately. If left outside or in an open container the thrips will fly back to the rose garden. After burning the flowers, dust or spray with nicotine sulphate or with 5 percent DDT mixture.

Another remedy is poisonous bait. Be sure to handle with care because this is poisonous to people as well as to thrips. Use six teaspoons of tartar emetic, two cups of granulated sugar and four gallons of water. Mix well and spray with a coarse nozzle at low pressure. Be sure that drops form on the blooms. The thrips like the sweet taste of the sugar and many of them will be killed.

A big record manufacturer soon will market a 12-inch phonograph record able to play half an hour continuously—six or seven times as long as old-style records, a complete music comedy or symphony on two sides. Hitch is that they must rotate at half speed most present phonographs are geared to.

A New Model of a Famous Tractor

Oliver begins its second century with the introduction of a new fleet of quality farm tractors—including the new 2-3 plow "77", a tractor with advanced farm features that make field work faster and more efficient than ever.

The smooth, brisk valve-in-head engine of the "77" is a six—and you have a choice of three types for the fuel you prefer: high compression for gasoline, "KD" for tractor fuels, and a diesel that will be available later.

The "77" will set a new performance mark in the operation of power take-off machines with its direct drive unit . . . a new economy record with its 6-forward-speed transmission in the Oil Miser case, Fuel Miser governor, and the basic interchangeability of Oliver's full line of tractor-mounted tools with all other new Row Crop models. Wheels on Row Crop models are interchangeable, too—with a choice of cast iron or stamped steel.

One of the models in the new Oliver fleet is sure to fit your acreage and farming practices. Available in Row Crop, Standard, Row Crop with Adjustable Front Axle or Single Front Wheel. Drop in next time you're in town.

Unopposed Attorney General To Report To People of State

PRICE DANIEL

Attorney General Price Daniel, candidate for re-election without opposition, has announced that he will make a report to the people over a state-wide radio network July 21 at 7:30 p.m.

Daniel, now serving his first term as Attorney General of Texas, is the youngest Attorney General in the United States. He was elected two years ago in a vigorous campaign less than 60 days after his discharge from the Army.

"Although I have no opponent this year, I want to thank the people of Texas for letting me serve another term and report to them on the work of my administration," Daniel said. "I will review the Sweatt case, anti-trust suits and investigations, the tidelands fight, and other matters which might be of interest to the citizens of Texas."

The address will be carried over all stations of the Texas State Network and KRLD at 7:30 p.m., July 21.

Baptist Pastor To Preach on "Politics"

Pastor Roy L. Johnson will preach Sunday morning at 11:00 at the Baptist Church in Canyon on "Bramble Bush Politics", basing his message on an Old Testament story of an election among the trees, when the good trees were so pre-occupied that the bramble grasped the opportunity to put himself in office. The pastor will help make the application to modern political practices and problems.

At the 8:15 evening hour he will continue his messages on questions of Jesus, speaking on "How Many Loaves Have You?"

Sunday School at 9:45 had an attendance of 411 last Sunday, according to report of Supt. A. K. Goodman, and Training Union at 7:00 had an attendance of 131.

About thirty people from the Canyon church attended the first week of youth camps being held at the new Plains Baptist Assembly grounds in Blanca Canyon south of Floydada, and a group of girls will leave Monday, July 19th, for camp. This is a part of the youth program of the Canyon Baptist Church, and most of these boys and girls are from the groups who meet every week for mission study and recreation.

WHOOPEE!

The scene was a Hollywood film studio. Thousands of "extras," attired as French revolutionists storming the Bastille, filled the middle distance.

In the foreground, on a rostrum, was the director, bawling through a megaphone:—

Boy Friend: "May I kiss you?"

No Answer.

Boy Friend: "Would you -- er -- would you mind a lot if I kissed you?"

Girl Friend: "Listen, buddy, whadya want me to do—promise not to bite?"

Museum Receives Gun Collection

The O. T. Nicholson gun collection, regarded by curators as one of the finest of its kind in the United States, arrived at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum last week.

Given to the museum by O. T. Nicholson, Shamrock banker, the collection contains 323 guns and many other weapons. Almost every model and make from the earliest guns to the present models are represented. Every gun in the collection not only represents a certain model and make of gun, but every gun has an interesting history.

Dr. L. F. Sheffy, of the history department, wrote in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Review "The Nicholson gun collection . . . is one of the finest of its kind in the United States . . . Every known system of firing is represented in this collection—the match lock, the wheel lock, the flint lock, which is fired from a tripod, and all types and models from the one-shooter to the six-shooter."

All models of the Colt's six-shooter except the Walker model are in the collection. There are 25 spur-trigger pocket guns, all of different manufacture, and several Wells Fargo Colt guns, and many rifles and shotguns in the collection.

Many of the guns are highly carved and inlaid with precious metals. Among the rarest and most unusual of the cartridge guns in this collection is the Smith and Wesson presentation engraved gun. It is silver plated with gold cylinder, gold medallions, and pearl handles.

Among the many freaks of the collection are the Chicago gangsters' "knuckle Duster," the palm pistol or revolver. The oldest gun in the Nicholson collection is a matchlock, supposedly about 400 years old. It was painted by the East Indian Temple priests. A section of the match is used to fire the gun.

A cross-bow, mace, and battle ax dating back to the Battle of Crecy, 1346, before the time of gunpowder, are also in the collection along with many other weapons such as swords, knives, bolos, Irish Shillalahs, a Japanese Samurai short sword, and a Chinese sword cane.

This collection will be placed on display as soon as space is available.

Senator Robert Taft will find his role as Republican leader in the Senate an irksome job in a Dewey Administration. The Senator does not relish the task of carrying out White House orders, but that will be his task in the event of a Republican victory.

BOYCE HOUSE Gives You Texas

A truly great man in a great position is J. E. Hickman, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Texas. I have known other chief justices personally but it was after they had attained that lofty place. Of Judge Hickman, however, it is my privilege to say, "I knew him when—"

And there has been no change in his geniality and consideration for others from the days when he practiced law in Breckenridge, a good many years ago. There, he taught the Morning Tower Bible Class—in the oil fields, the two shifts were known as morning and evening towers. The class was inter-denominational and was attended by men of all creeds and by men of no formal creed. The class met in a motion picture theater Sunday mornings and drew many oil field workers and cowboys that you would have had to rope and hog-tie to get into a church-house. So human, down-to-earth and yet inspiring were Judge Hickman's messages that the class membership reached way up into the hundreds.

When he was elected to the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals, he moved to Eastland, where the court sits. In Eastland, he taught the 9:49 Bible Class and his religious presentations were a great influence on the lives of many men.

In 1935, Judge Hickman became a member of the Commission of Appeals of the State Supreme Court and moved to Austin, and he teaches the largest Sunday School class in that city. He became a member of the Supreme Court in 1945, was elected in 1946, became chief justice last January and is up for re-election to the full term in the July primaries. Judge Hickman was born at Liberty Hill in Williamson County in 1883, attended the University of Texas, taught public schools and was principal of Lampasas High, returned to the State University, where he received his law degree, then practiced law in Erath and Stephens counties. He is a trustee of Southern Methodist University and a member of the Masonic order.

Great in physique—six feet, three or four inches tall; great in powers of mind as lawyer and judge; and great in character—democratic and friendly and eminently fair to all—such is Chief Justice J. E. Hickman of the Supreme Court of Texas.

Winston Churchill really touched off the latest war scare by comparing the issues involving the future of Berlin with those that were faced in Munich when Britain and France backed down rather than stand up to Hitler. The British got the war jitters this time, while U. S. got them badly when Czechoslovakia was gobbled up by Communists.

Averell Harriman, U. S. Marshall Plan Ambassador to Europe, is being backed by top officials in Washington in his argument with Britain's Sir Stafford Cripps over conditions to be attached to Marshall Plan aid. Sir Stafford challenged Harriman's authority, but lost out.

The Dewey strength in dealing with Congress, if he wins, will lie in an immense total of jobs that will be his for disposal. He will have far more jobs to promise—many of them paying well—than Franklin Roosevelt had when he took over in 1933.

The B-36 super bombers, of which the U. S. Air Force ordered a large number, are not coming up to performance expectations. Each one of these costs millions of dollars, and its faults are causing Air Force headaches.

Russia has credited her scientists with the development of electricity, but the world thinks she has yet to see the light.
